

16Th Khwarizmi International Award

Feb 2003

Foreign First Winner

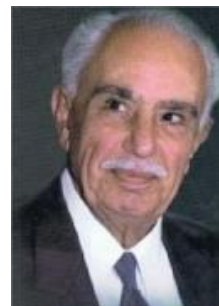

Researcher: Nasser Aldeen Al-Assad

Research Title: Research on Islamic culture and civilization

Rank: First

Field: Human Sciences

Country: Jordan

Biography:

Prof. Nasser Aldeen Al-Assad was born in Aqaba, a Jordanian port city in 1923. He earned the higher certificate and diploma in education from the Arabian College in Jerusalem from 1941 to 1943. In addition, he earned the bachelor and master's degree in Arts from Cairo University while he was granted his PhD in Arts in 1955.

Held several academic, literary and political positions

Correspondent member of the Arab Academy of Damascus since 1969

Member of the Arabic Language Academy in Cairo 1973

Board member of the Palestinian Encyclopedia 1974

Correspondent Member of the Indian Scientific Academy in Algarh 1976

Member of the Jordanian Arab Language Academy since 1979

Member of the Academy of Kingdom of Morocco 1988

Member of the International Advisory Board of Al-Furqan Islamic Heritage Foundation in London since 1991

Member of the Royal Committee of Al al-Bayt University for Science and Humanities

Member of the Royal Committee for Jerusalem Affairs 1994

Head of the Royal Institute for Islamic Culture Studies (Al al-Bayt Foundation)

Honorary Member of the Arabic Language Academy of China 1994

Academic Posts

Dean of the Faculty of Arts and Education in the Libyan University, Benghazi, 1959-1961.

President of the Jordanian University (1962-1968 & 1978-1980).

President of Al Ahliyya Amman University, 1991-1993

Honorary professor at Jordanian Universities

Famous Works:

- "Masadir Al Shi'r Al Jahili wa Qeematha Al Tarikhiyya" (Sources of Pre-Islamic Poetry and their Historical Significance".
- "Tasawwurat Islamiyya fil Ta'leem Al Jame'y wal Bahth Al Ilmi" (Islamic Perceptions of College Education and Scientific Research)
- "Al Shi'r AL Hadeeth fee Falasteen" (Modern poetry in Palestine).